Lake Buena Vista, Fla. – Former major league pitcher Roger Clemens visited Planet Hollywood at Downtown Disney this afternoon.

Clemens is in town to watch his son's baseball training season. Koby Clemens plays first base for the Houston Astros and is scheduled to play during the Atlanta Braves Spring Training, on March 13 and 20 at the ESPN Wide World of Sports at Walt Disney World Resort.

Both father and son enjoyed their favorite dishes including World Famous Chicken Crunch, and signed autographs for their fans.

For 20 years Planet Hollywood offers a dining experience inspired by the glamour and excitement of the big screen. Planet Hollywood at Downtown Disney showcases an extensive Hollywood and Sports memorabilia collection featuring props from blockbuster movies and classic TV shows, while the diverse menu offers all of your favorites. Exotic salads and award-winning burgers are only a few of the many signature flavors guests will find. Guests can also take home a piece of Hollywood with the latest fashions and collectible souvenir gifts.
